Call of Duty is one of the most successful and loved series of all time. The latest installment; Call of Duty: Black Ops sold more than 7 million copies in its first 24 hours of being released and has helped boost record sales for the bands that appear in game including Creedence Clearwater Revival and The Rolling Stones. Not having had much experience with the Call of Duty franchise I of course took my gaming experience to the experts and shared almost all my game play experiences under their watchful eyes. Them of course being my nephews. Yeah, they owned me every time we played Multi-Player mode.
