Sam Jackson, Paul Gardner and more at the Red Carpet for Afro Samurai: The Game

10:18 am EST 1/29/2009 by Tara Settembre [1]

I've been to movie premiers before, but last night was my first time attending the premier of a video game—Afro Samurai [2], the new action video game developed by SURGE.

The Xbox and Playstation 3 game is based on the Spike TV animated series produced by actor Samuel L. Jackson, who also provides the voice for the game and thus was in attendance last night along with a lot of pretty people that I only sort of recognized along with Kiely Williams from The Cheetah Girls.

Check out the video below with interviews with Paul Gardner who is the script/cinematic lead for the game, views from the party and Sam Jackson and Kiely on the red carpet.
