

For the red carpet premiere of I Love You, Man, I was unfortunately stuck with the other dot com's—at the end of the red carpet. Thus, I barely saw Paul Rudd and Jason Segel, which sucks because I had my questions all prepared. I was going to ask Paul Rudd if he's ever thrown up on someone like his character does in the film, since I figured no one would ask him that and maybe some funny college story would be revealed. As for Jason, I was going to ask if he's ever said I love you man to a guy friend before. Anyway, I did speak to two of the funny side characters, Joe Lo Truglio "Lonnie," Jon Favreau and Thomas Lennon "Doug" (Reno 911). I also captured some footage of the red carpet attendees like Jamie Pressley "Denise," Jack Black, Lou Ferrigno, Ben Stiller and his wife Christine Taylor and parents Jerry Stiller and Anne Meara. This premiere also had props from the film's set along the red carpet pathway including furniture from "the man cave," which was pretty cool. Once the press line packed up I lied out on the comfy couch briefly :)
