I saw this too, but I have to say I really enjoyed its bubbly flair. It's a cute, modern take on "My Fair Lady" and I was delighted by Cho's performance as the judgy Henry. A different role for him using a different style of comedy and I think he truly delivered. I have my doubts about Gillian, but ... I love Ellie!

Overrated? I hardly know anyone who's seen it. I thought it was fantastic and fell very in line with the tone of "Angel". My only complaint is that if you had seen Buffy & Angel, you'd see repeated themes which feel like a retread of old ground, but still massively enjoyable.
